INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use the NCR or tissue paper to transfer your pattern onto your plate.
2. Next, paint the background with 3 coats of Chiffon (make sure to fill in the background between the baby and the momma's trunk).
3. Use 3 coats of London Fog to fill in the baby's head, top of ears, and the feet.
4. Then, paint in the body of the baby by dipping your detail brush into both the London Fog and the Battleship, this will create a slightly darker shade to the body.
5. Paint the inside of both Mom and baby's ears with 3 coats Pink Berry.
6. Next, the "edges" of Mom's ears with 3 coats of London Fog.
7. Paint in 3 coats of Battleship to the Mom.
8. To blend in the ear to the face, use a sponge to softly tap Battleship up into the ear.
9. Use a detail brush to add 2 coats of Licorice to the baby's toenails, eyes, and the inside of the Mom's trunk.
10. Finally water down Licorice and use your liner brush to make broken outlines.

TIPS

- When tracing on your NCR paper, press firmly to make sure it transfers.
- Before you remove the pattern, peel it back to make sure it's all transferred on before removing completely.
- When you're using the liner brush keep the brush straight up and down for finer lines, and you can water the paint down slightly.
